Alicia Reagan is a spinal cord injury survivor and a single mom who has faced significant challenges throughout her life. She is the founder of Voice for the Vulnerable, a ministry that seeks to provide emotional, spiritual and practical support to vulnerable people groups in the community. As a speaker, and drawing from her own life story, she will encourage and challenge the listener. Providing resources such as workshops, coaching sessions, group meetings and other programs that meet the unique needs of each person, she also works to equip local churches to recognize, reach out and respond to underserved people. Alicia's mission is to create a safe space where everyone is seen and valued regardless of their circumstances, and to ultimately lead those served into a journey with Jesus to experience true freedom - physically, emotionally, mentally and spiritually.
